

"Have Your Midlife Crisis in Paris™"

For Janet Russell, having her midlife crisis meant getting on a plane to Paris. The city of lights was most emphatically the cure ... an ongoing one at that. Now, seven years later, she's picked some of her most memorable places and experiences to share with a discriminating few. Join Janet for an adventure you'll never forget. See the best of Paris from a unique perspective ...that of a neurotic, slightly hysterical, singer/music teacher/art lover seeking instant gratification and creature comforts while being politically correct. Janet will recount the lurid details of her most embarrassing mistakes to ensure you don't suffer the same fate. Her orientation on French "politesse", and blending in with the local color will ensure a warm reception from the toughest audience there is...the French.

Optional Highlights:

- Private costume jewelry showing with Bénédicte, a young, up and coming designer
- Weekend flower / animal market near Notre-Dame. Browse shops and galleries on Ile St-Louis, ice cream at Berthillon.
- Walking tour of Hemingway's neighborhood in the Latin Quarter. Visit the colorful market, have an apéritif on a terrace at the Place de la Contrescarpe, dine on your own in one of the many charming restaurants on rue Mouffetard.

- Walk the magical route of the wacky characters in the musical comedy "Golden Gate to Paris". From the Marais and Quartier Latin, you'll stand on the spots that inspired a play about dysfunctional love and why we can't give it up. End the walk on the Pont des Arts with a get together with friends living in Paris. Everyone brings a bottle of wine. It's an international gathering of the most interesting people.

And for the truly daring:

- A group singing lesson to learn La Vie en Rose, then a singalong with Janet's pianist friend in a local Paris club.

If you like gardens, there is nothing like a day spent in Giverny. Stroll through the fabulous gardens, see the lily pond and the Japanese bridge at Monet's home. Bring plenty of film. You'll also have the chance to stop at the Musée d'Art Américain just a few doors away.

Package includes:

- 5 nights at the 4-star Hotel Littre located in St-Germain des Prés
- Roundtrip airport transfers
- One hour orientation - Janet's essential secrets for cultural success in France
- Half day Paris by Bus tour
- Entrance to Paris Story
- Full day tour of Giverny including elegant gourmet lunch at Les Jardins de Giverny
- Lunch at the renowned Belle Epoque restaurant Le Train Bleu
- Farewell dinner at La Petite Chaise
- Entrance to Eiffel Tower
- 5 day metro pass
- 3 day museum pass
- Fully escorted by Janet Russell including a signed copy of "Have Your Midlife Crisis in Paris™"

Get a steal on last minute tickets at the "Kiosque Théâtre" at Place de la Madeleine. The kiosk is covered with show posters to browse. Musicals are great if you don't speak French.

Read Janet's Paris biography at www.singersworkshop.com/parisbio.html

Price is $1550 per person based on double occupancy, land only, based on a minimum 14 passengers. August 13 - 19, 2003. Air add ons available from most U.S. gateways. For reservations and information, please contact EuroBound at (888) 672-7476.

Journey through the centuries of Paris. Paris Story, the most spectacular multimedia show ever produced about Paris. Go back in time 2000 years. Thanks to new wide-screen, audio-visual technology and virtual images, Victor Hugo will guide you through the centuries of Parisian history. "This is a real must do. Meet the owner who has a charming story about how he got started on this project."

